Aziza is an outstanding oriental dance performer and instructor. She currently splits her time between the Pacific Northwest and Montreal, Canada. Dancing since the age of three, Aziza has a strong background in classical ballet. After twelve years of ballet study and performance, Aziza began experimenting with other dance forms including African, Modern, Lyrical Jazz, and Tahitian. In 1988 she was introduced to Middle Eastern Dance and found it to be the ideal medium. Since that time, Aziza has devoted her life to learning, performing, and sharing this ancient art form. Aside from performing, Aziza brings a bounty of experience and many influences to her teaching style.

Regarded as a favorite by those familiar with her, she is also very approachable. She considers being able to do what she loves for a living, and having the opportunity to help other mid-eastern dance enthusiasts grow a blessing and a privilege that she will never take for granted.

The fluidity and grace of Aziza’s movements, teamed with seemingly impossible hip locks, endless shimmies, creative veil work, and a captivating smile have earned her accolades worldwide.
